

Studies in the Book of Genesis ③

Adam and Eve's Children

Genesis 3:14–4:26 (ESV)

Hope Chapel Tokorozawa

Theme Scripture: Genesis 4:26

To Seth also a son was born, and he called his name Enosh. At that time people began to call upon the name of the Lord.

Introduction

By studying the Old Testament, we can learn about the sinfulness of mankind as well as the holiness and love of God. We also are able to understand the New Testament more deeply. In my current message series, I'd like us to spend some time studying in the book of Genesis.

(1) The Edenic Covenant and the Adamic Covenant

- Regarding the serpent (Genesis 3:14–15)
- Regarding Eve (Genesis 3:16)
- Regarding Adam (Genesis 3:17–19)

(2) The Children of Adam and Eve

- Cain and Abel's offering (Genesis 4:1–5, Hebrews 11:4)
- Cain's genealogy (Genesis 4:6–16, 19, 23–24)
- Seth's genealogy (Genesis 4:25–26, 5:21–24)

Conclusion

Genesis describes the beginning of humankind and the original sin of Adam and Eve. When people are separated from God, they are ruled by sin. We should not be like Cain, separated from God, but like Abel, knowing the heart of God—continuing in the lineage of Seth, who called on God's name.

Bible verses for this week

Genesis 3:14–5:32

20230521hcte